Talis Talk

The Talis Talk group had an interesting discussion yesterday on mashups and how libraries can best utilize these new tools. Present were Paul Miller, Paul Mayes, Ed Vielmetti, John Blyberg, Thomas Brevik, Sandra Stewart, Tim Spalding and myself. This and previous podcasts should be available here. I'm afraid I was out of my league in this discussion as you'll realize when you hear John Blyberg and Ed Vielmetti of Ann Arbor District Library and Tim Spalding, creator of Library Thing, discussing the amazing things they're doing with mashups and online web applications.
