

LibraryCrunch

Service for the Next Generation Library: A Library 2.0 Perspective by Michael Casey

« Talis Talk | Main | Cellphones, Kids, Parents and Safety »

Thanks

On Tuesday I had the privilege of speaking to a great group of librarians at the NGAL (North Georgia Associated Libraries) meeting in Rome, Georgia. We discussed Library 2.0 as it applies to library services and technology. If there was one theme to our talk it was the idea of getting out of our physical library and finding out what our community wants – not just the community that comes into our buildings and already uses our services, but the community of non-library users who never even think to use our resources.

I want to thank Susan Sexton-Cooley, Director of the Sara Hightower Regional Library System, for providing such a wonderful and inviting venue. They have a beautiful library up there in Rome. I also want to thank Laura Savastinuk, Sheelagh O'Malley Johnson and Jeanne Hozak of NGAL for inviting me to speak.

Posted by Michael on July 13, 2006 07:51 AM | Permalink

➔ Post a comment

(If you haven't left a comment here before, you may need to be approved by the site owner before your comment will appear. Until then, it won't appear on the entry. Thanks for waiting.)

Name:

Email Address:

URL:

☐ Remember personal info?

Comments: (you may use HTML tags for style)

Preview

Post

